

vanilla

w/ SSL

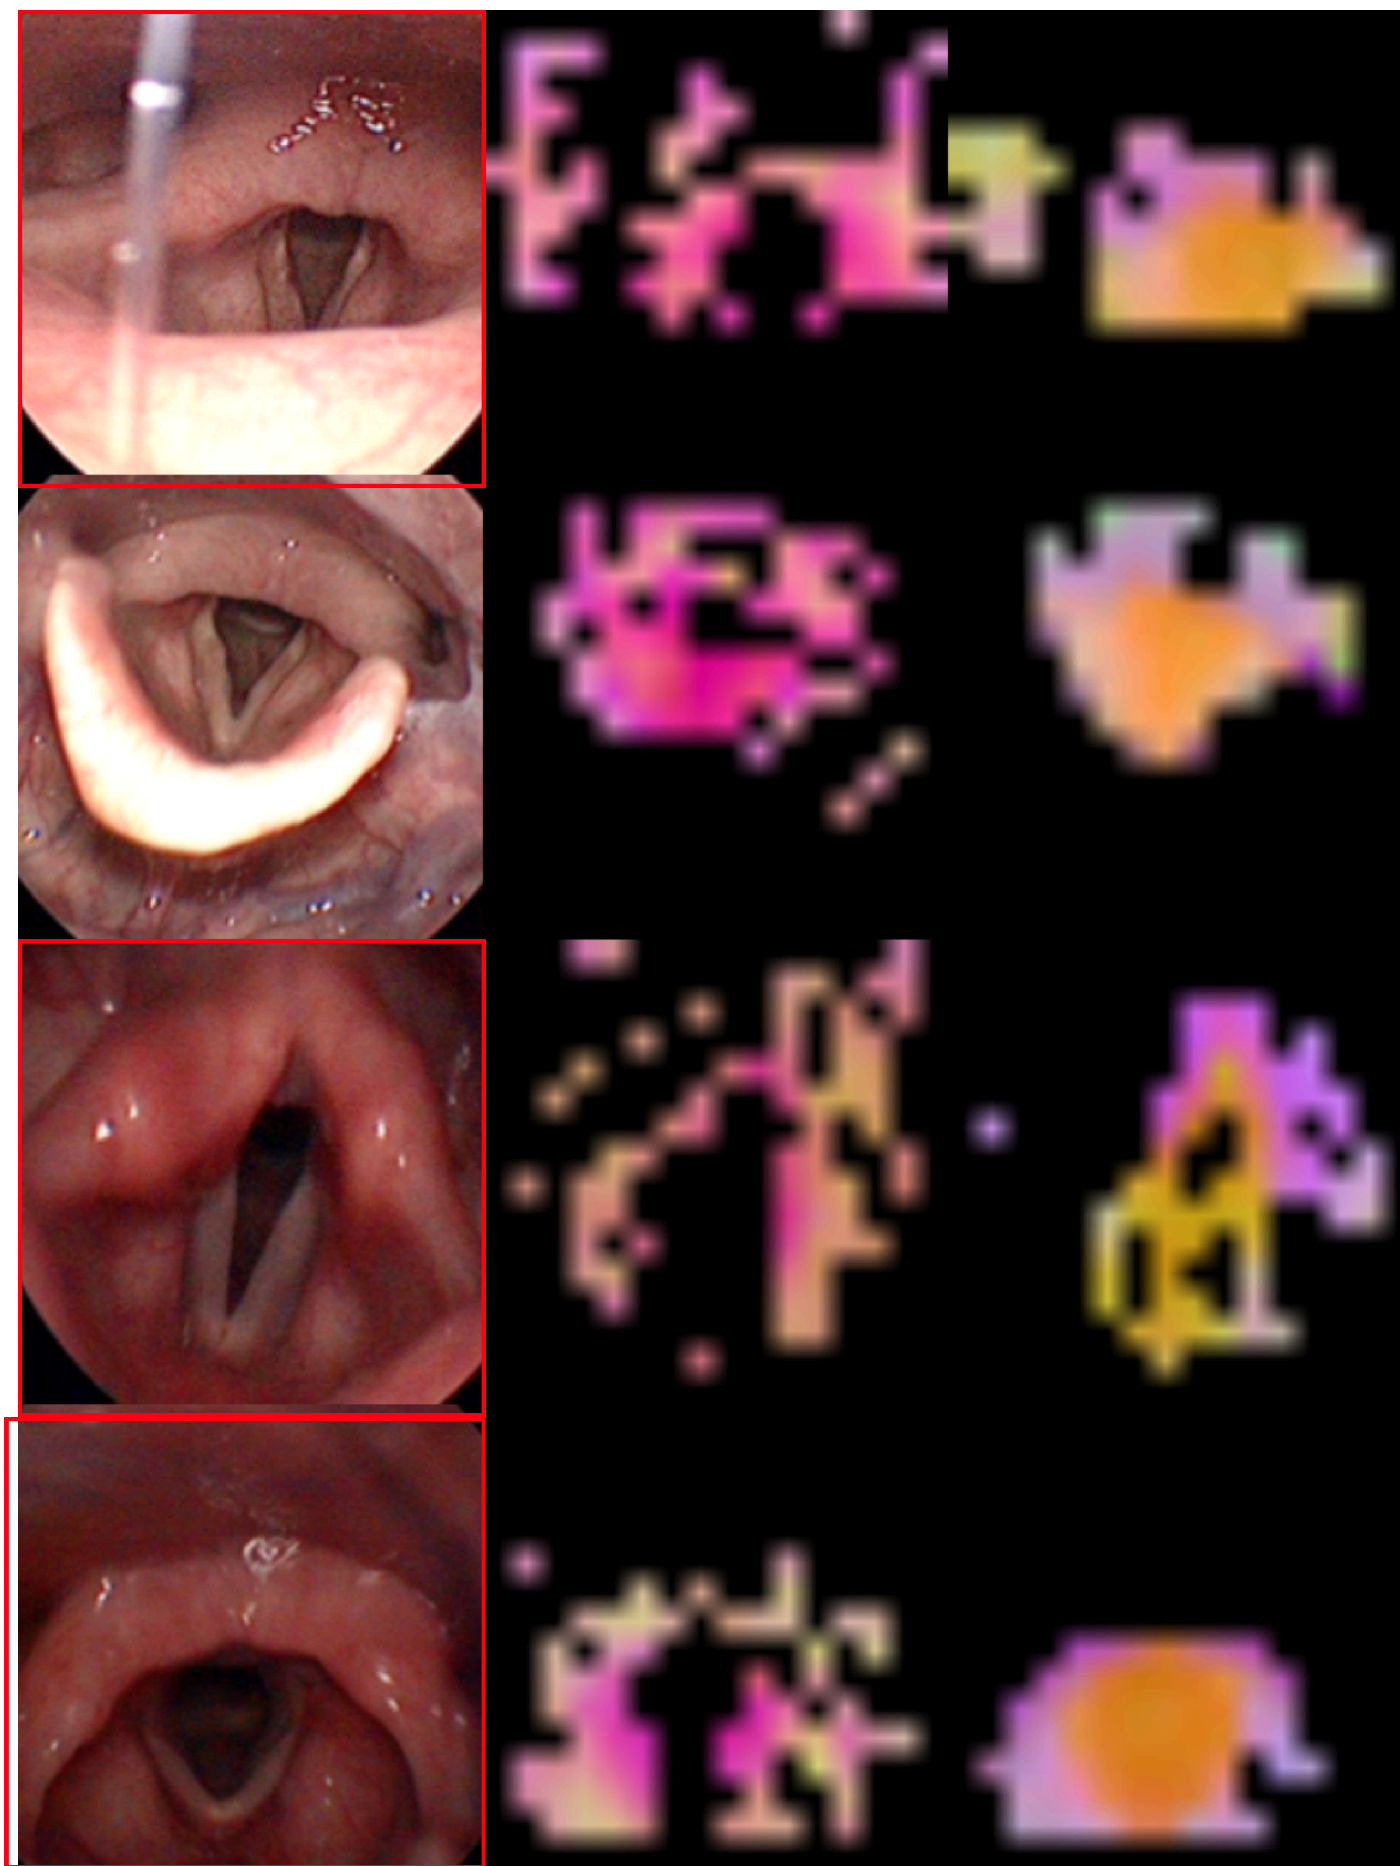

Figure 7. Visualization of feature representations of ENTRepCLIP using PCA projection with three components on four images from the vocal throat class. Images with red borders denote adversarial images created by adding Gaussian noise, while images without borders correspond to clean samples. The first PCA component is used to filter out background variations.